GENERAL CONDITIONS

EN / NfL type-inspection is carried out by test laboratory Air Turquoise SA, Switzerland. Air Turquoise SA will also manage all administration and archive the glider (s) in according to EN / NfL.

When all the tests are finished, the manufacturer has 6 months to complete all technical files, user's manual etc. If the time is not overheld, we have no other choice than to remove the tested sample from the type-inspection process.

Air Turquoise SA shall treat all data given by the manufacturer strictly confidential. Data concerning the manufacturer or his products retrieved from any other source (e.g. measurements, results of tests, etc.) shall be treated in the same way.

However, Air Turquoise SA will publish all data in document PUBLICATIONS LIST. Air Turquoise shall not publish any other data, unless the manufacturer has agreed to this in writing beforehand, or a judicial order enforceable under Swiss law allows it. In this last case, the manufacturer shall be notified in writing and detail of the data transmitted, if legally possible.

The Manufacturer shall keep confidential all information he may come to know within the execution of this contract, concerning the activities of Air Turquoise SA.

In case - following present contract - Air Turquoise SA is brought to archive the product presented for testing, its liability is submitted to Swiss Legal principles and can in no case be higher than CHF 500.- per product.

Air Turquoise SA shall test the product in neutrality and impartiality, without any exterior influence or pressure. The manufacturer shall accept the results of tests, and can only impeach them by the correct appeal procedure (cf. doc PR08).

Air Turquoise SA will undertake the tests in reasonable time. For weather and exploitation reasons, any date given to the manufacturer is however only indicative and Air Turquoise SA can in no case be bound by it.

Swiss Law is exclusively applicable to all relations between Air Turquoise SA and the manufacturer, and the ordinary Swiss competent courts of Villeneuve are exclusively competent for any dispute.
